Antero Peak Group — Investor Update

This is an offering of shares of an Artisan Fund and does not create a relationship between the investor and Artisan Partners. The Notes and Disclosures section of this presentation contains important information. Readers are encouraged to review it carefully.

ARTISAN PARTNERS

Year-to-Date and Third Quarter Review

Our Execution Remains Strong in a Volatile Backdrop

- For the year, through 9/30, the Artisan Focus Fund gained 28.72%, 6.64% above the 22.08% return for the S&P 500® Index.
- During the third quarter of 2024, the Artisan Focus Fund returned 6.97%, 1.09% above the 5.89% return for the S&P 500® Index.
- A change in Fed posture led to the first rate cut of the cycle and a drop in yield from 4.4% to 3.8% for the 10-year Treasury.
- Despite the S&P 500® Index setting new highs, Q3 saw a massive uptick in volatility, with the VIX at one point gaining ~400% intra-quarter (highest level since Covid), while the market suffered its worst peak to trough drawdown in two years.
- Our De-Globalization and Aerospace Normalization themes continued to drive strong performance, and we once again saw nice balance of contributors spanning financials, health care, industrials, and tech.

Market Internals: Understanding the Fundamental Path Forward

We Are Leaning on Our Process to Marry Revisions With Acceleration

- While breadth widened in Q3, positive revisions have remained narrow and concentrated in the Magnificent 7 (M7).
- The S&P 493 continued to revise lower during the quarter, putting future period growth at risk.
- Overall growth rates, however, should converge as the S&P 493 is projected to accelerate while the M7 decelerates.

Magnificent 7 (M7) is a term used to describe large US companies: Apple, Microsoft, Meta, Alphabet, Tesla, Amazon and NVIDIA. The S&P 493 represents the S&P 500® Index excluding the M7.

Perspectives on the Revisions Cycle

Growth is Accelerating, Yet Revisions Are Weak With More Risks Remaining

- Despite overall stabilization in estimates, total revisions continued to move lower in the third quarter.
- Cyclical areas—industrials, energy, materials—remain under pressure.
- Our portfolio’s earnings substantially outperformed the benchmark fundamentally in the third quarter, seeing upward revisions of 2%.
- Notably though, the Federal Reserve has never undergone a cutting cycle without a decelerating or contracting overall earnings growth environment. With conditions unprecedented, we are focused on bottom-up work and seeking to protect our portfolio from pricing and/or cyclical pressure as inflation peaks.

The S&P 500® Index is Getting More Durable Versus Overall Real GDP

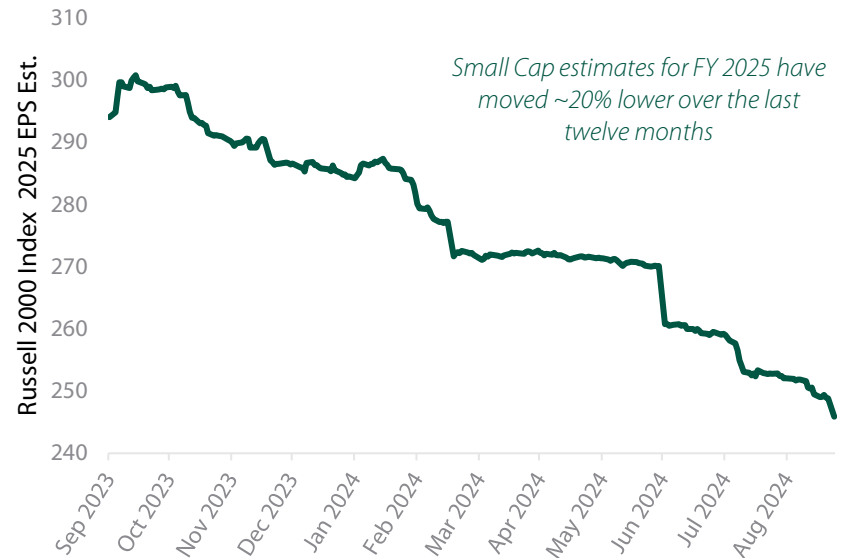

Underlying Employment May Be at Greater Risk Than the S&P 500® Index Trends Indicate

- Inflation is trending toward the Fed’s target level, and with rates previously at higher levels, the Fed has logically begun an easing cycle.
- Yet, the Federal Reserve has never undergone a cutting cycle without a decelerating or contracting overall earnings growth environment.
- We think the largest companies in the S&P 500® Index are holding up earnings for the overall index yet only represent a tiny fraction of overall employment.
- Importantly, earnings revisions have been very negative for the areas where the vast majority of employment lies.

Our Process is Supported By Empirical Data With a Strong Forward Setup We Have a Clearly Defined Game Plan and an Expanding Thematic Opportunity Set

- Our process is focused on three key pillars, supported by strong empirical evidence:
 - 1) Inflection points that can lead to broad based, often industry wide accelerations and high earnings growth rates
 - 2) Bottom-up, rigorous differentiation that can lead to high and sustained upward estimate revisions
 - 3) Rising Return on Invested Capital ("ROIC") that can lead to multiple expansion
- We expect the macro impact to remain elevated, but to slow after two unprecedented years, allowing fundamentals and earnings to succeed.

We Believe Our Portfolio is Poised to Revise Higher and Grow Faster Than the S&P 500® Index

Investment Highlights: De-Globalization

Transformational Assets Emerging

- Constellation Energy (CEG) is the nation’s largest owner of nuclear assets.
- Independent Power Producers (“IPP”) like CEG were historically exposed to volatile regional power prices in competitive markets.
- Today, however, CEG is perfectly aligned with multiple powerful secular forces like de-globalization, AI and a drive for clean energy.
- During the quarter, MSFT and CEG entered a contract to restart the Three Mile Island nuclear site in Pennsylvania at an implied 35% ROIC.
- We believe this event proves depth and scale of hyperscale demand for clean energy.

Investment Highlights

CEG: Transforming from a volatile IPP to a unique infrastructure with accelerating ROIC and growth.

ENR: A key part of the supply response from natural gas generation expansion and grid upgrades; formerly undermanaged asset inside the Siemens conglomerate.

Investment Highlights: Network Infrastructure Modernization

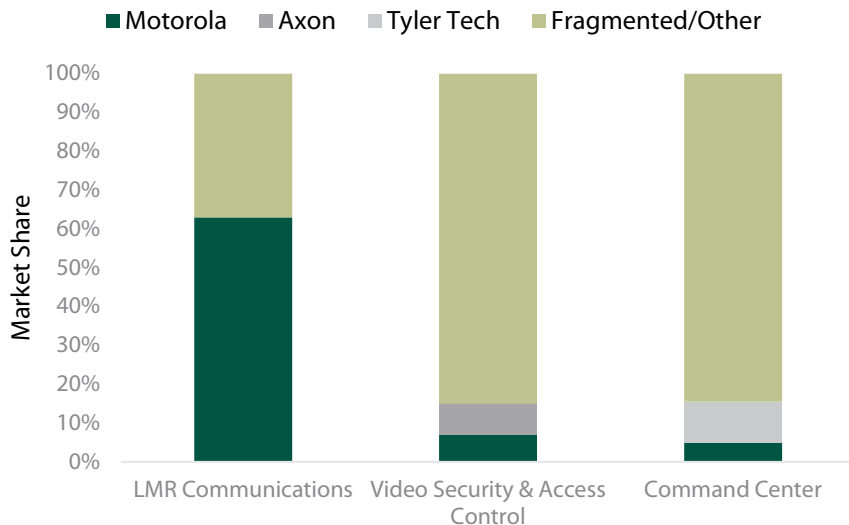

Motorola Solutions: A High Growth Staple, Understanding the World's Largest Public Safety Player

- MSI is a leader in public safety, a MSD% growth market over the last 40 years.
- Dominant in Land Mobile Radios (“LMR”), MSI has the cash to reposition the company towards higher growth Video and Command Center segments.
- We believe the LMR segment (75% of total sales) will have above-normal growth for the next five years driven by a product refresh cycle: the first radios with LTE and GPS capabilities.
- We think this will be followed by a structural inflection as MSI can gain share in the 10%+ growing, fragmented Video and Command Center markets.

Investment Highlights
MSI: Transforming into a high growth staple through consolidation and innovation.
EQIX: AI is an accelerant to the core cloud business leading to consistent revenue growth differentiation.

Past performance does not guarantee and is not a reliable indicator of future results. Investment returns and principal values will fluctuate so that an investor's shares, when redeemed, may be worth more or less than their original cost. Current performance may be lower or higher than that shown. Call 800.344.1770 for current to most recent month-end performance. Performance may reflect agreements to limit a Fund's expenses, which would reduce performance if not in effect. The Fund's investments in initial public offerings (IPOs) made a material contribution to performance. IPO investments may contribute significantly to a small portfolio's return, an effect that will generally decrease as assets grow. IPO investments may be unavailable in the future.

Current and future portfolio holdings are subject to risk. The value of portfolio securities selected by the investment team may rise or fall in response to company, market, economic, political, regulatory or other news, at times greater than the market or benchmark index. A portfolio's environmental, social and governance ("ESG") considerations may limit the investment opportunities available and, as a result, the portfolio may forgo certain investment opportunities and underperform portfolios that do not consider ESG factors. Non-diversified portfolios may invest larger portions of assets in securities of a smaller number of issuers and performance of a single issuer may have a greater impact to the portfolio's returns. Use of derivatives may create investment leverage and increase the likelihood of volatility and risk of loss in excess of the amount invested. High portfolio turnover may adversely affect returns due to increased transaction costs and creation of additional tax consequences. Securities of small- and medium-sized companies tend to have a shorter history of operations, be more volatile and less liquid and may have underperformed securities of large companies during some periods. International investments involve special risks, including currency fluctuation, lower liquidity, different accounting methods and economic and political systems, and higher transaction costs. These risks typically are greater in emerging and less developed markets, including frontier markets.
